Good Neighbor Storage Introduces Secure RV, Car, and Boat Parking in Neosho

September 15, 2026

NEOSHO, MO - September 15, 2026 -
Good Neighbor Storage, a newly built, Christian-owned self-storage facility in Neosho, Missouri, has announced the availability of secure outdoor parking for recreational and personal vehicles. The new service gives vehicle owners a dedicated space to store cars, boats, RVs, trailers, and other recreational vehicles that do not fit easily in a driveway, backyard, or apartment lot.

The Good Neighbor Storage RV, Car, and Boat Parking areas are designed to accommodate large and small vehicles alike. Each space features wide maneuvering room, easy pull-in and back-out access, and around-the-clock availability, helping protect vehicles from weather and wear during periods when they are not in use.

The expansion addresses a common storage challenge for residents of the Neosho area, where homeowners associations, limited lot space, and municipal rules often leave little room for oversized vehicles. The dedicated parking spaces provide an alternative for those seeking a practical place to keep their vehicles between seasons or between trips.

"Many vehicle owners struggle to find a safe and convenient place to keep a boat or an RV when it is not on the road," said Cory Platt of Good Neighbor Storage. "The outdoor parking spaces were laid out with real vehicles in mind, giving renters enough room to move in and out without difficulty and the reassurance that their property is stored in a well-maintained location."

The facility offers ground-level access throughout, with no stairs or elevators to navigate. Enclosed storage units include roll-up doors for straightforward loading and unloading. All rentals are available on month-to-month leases, and renters can complete an online move-in, set up online bill pay, and enroll in autopay for added convenience. Available parking spots and storage units can be browsed and reserved directly through the company's online rental portal.

Beyond vehicle storage, Good Neighbor Storage provides a range of options for individuals, families, and businesses. Storage units range from compact 10x10 spaces to larger outdoor areas, serving needs that include temporary storage during home renovations, seasonal item storage, and business inventory space. Business customers use the facility for paperwork, overstock, construction materials, seasonal equipment, and worker tools, allowing companies to operate without the burden of managing excess materials on-site.

The company also operates a full-service moving center that supplies packing materials, boxes, moving trucks, and cargo trailers. Through partnerships with professional movers, the facility offers support throughout the relocation process.

"The goal has always been to accommodate the full spectrum of storage needs in the community," Platt said. "Adding dedicated vehicle parking was a natural step in serving neighbors who need reliable space for the things that matter to them."
